

Advice

Quotations "It takes a great man to give sound advice tactfully, but a greater to accept it graciously."

- Logan Pearsall Smith

I see it all perfectly; there are two possible situations - one can either do this or that. My honest opinion and my friendly advice is this: do it or do not do it - you will regret both.

- Soren Kierkegaard

Questions

- When people need advice what do they ask you for?
- Do you listen more to your friends or your family?
- What advice would you give yourself if you could go back in time?
- How do you judge if advice is worth listening to?
- What advice would you give students learning English?
- What advice would you give if someone wanted to live in another country?
- What's the fastest way to make £5 million?
- When was the last time you were given terrible advice?
- Is it wise to get advice online from strangers?
- Are men good at giving advice? Why, why not?
- Have you ever given bad advice to someone? What was it for?
- What advice would you give the leader of your country?
- Have you ignored the advice of another person, only to have regretted it later?
- Should you listen to advice you get from magazines, radio programmes and TV shows? What are the problems with listening to this advice?

Presentation On pieces of paper anonymously write down problems that are common to all people. Redistribute these and create a presentation of how best to solve the problem. Try to be as detailed as possible.